Chef Jean-Georges Vongerichten

Though Chef Jean-Georges Vongerichten is one of the world's most famous chefs, his skills extend far beyond the kitchen. A savvy businessman and restaurateur, Vongerichten is responsible for the operation and success of a constellation of three- and four-star restaurants worldwide.

Born and raised on the outskirts of Strasbourg in Alsace, France, Vongerichten's earliest family memories are about food. After training in a work-study program at the Auberge de l'Ill, Vongerichten began his exemplary culinary career learning from some of the best chefs in the world, including Chef Louis Outhier at the Michelin three-star Restaurant L'Oasis in southern France.

To date, Vongerichten has published several cookbooks, appeared on numerous television shows including the "Today" show and "Good Morning America" and continues to apply his talents and forward-thinking vision to his restaurants, including PRIME Steakhouse at Bellagio.

"I think the role of a chef is not just to cook, but to create cravings."
 – Chef Jean-Georges Vongerichten
